Trends in Integrated Reporting that Support Sustainable Growth in Japan 2022

In 2022, the number of Japan-based organizations that issued integrated reports increased over 100, nearing the 900-company mark. There has been a steady upward trend to date, but numbers have once again been increasing at an accelerated rate since 2021. Underlying this change is the continued expansion of ESG investment and an increase in investor demand for further information disclosure.

Action pertaining to the establishment of disclosure standards for sustainability-related information, which has seen a rapid uptick in recent years, also gained further momentum in 2022. There is an accelerating trend to quantify sustainability-related information to achieve greater comparability. Quantifying various events is extremely important, both in corporate management and in investment decisions. It is also true, however, that as the information becomes more and more quantified, many people increasingly feel that a company's appeal, strengths, and qualities cannot be portrayed by numbers alone.

Several indicators measure corporate value from a financial perspective, such as price-to-book ratio, market capitalization, and net present value of future cash flows. However, corporate value is not confined to financial indicators. It is hidden away in information that cannot necessarily be quantified, such as the uniqueness of a company's strategy, its corporate culture, its deeply rooted on-site strengths, and the ingenuity of its employees. While the disclosure of sustainability information has become mandatory and is increasingly included in systematic disclosure documents, the more quantitative and formulaic the information becomes, the more a company must thoroughly explain the aims, background, and strategies behind the quantified data, or it may find itself evaluated solely based on numbers. Going by numbers alone also carries the risk of unintentionally causing damage to a company's reputation. We believe that integrated reports, which are voluntary disclosures, are a highly valuable tool that provide a logical portrayal of a company's medium- to long-term growth story, including the thoughts and views of the company's management.

With the ever-expanding range of companies fostering integrated thinking and rising to the challenge of integrated reporting, our hope is that integrated reports themselves will be used not merely as a comprehensive source of information but also as a means of furthering dialogue with the capital markets.

List of Organizations in Japan Engaged in the Publication of Self-Declared Integrated Reports (2022)

As of the end of December 2022

Note: Taking into account publication delays as a result of COVID-19, the 2022 edition of this report includes integrated reports issued up to January 20th, 2023 by companies that continued issuing such reports.

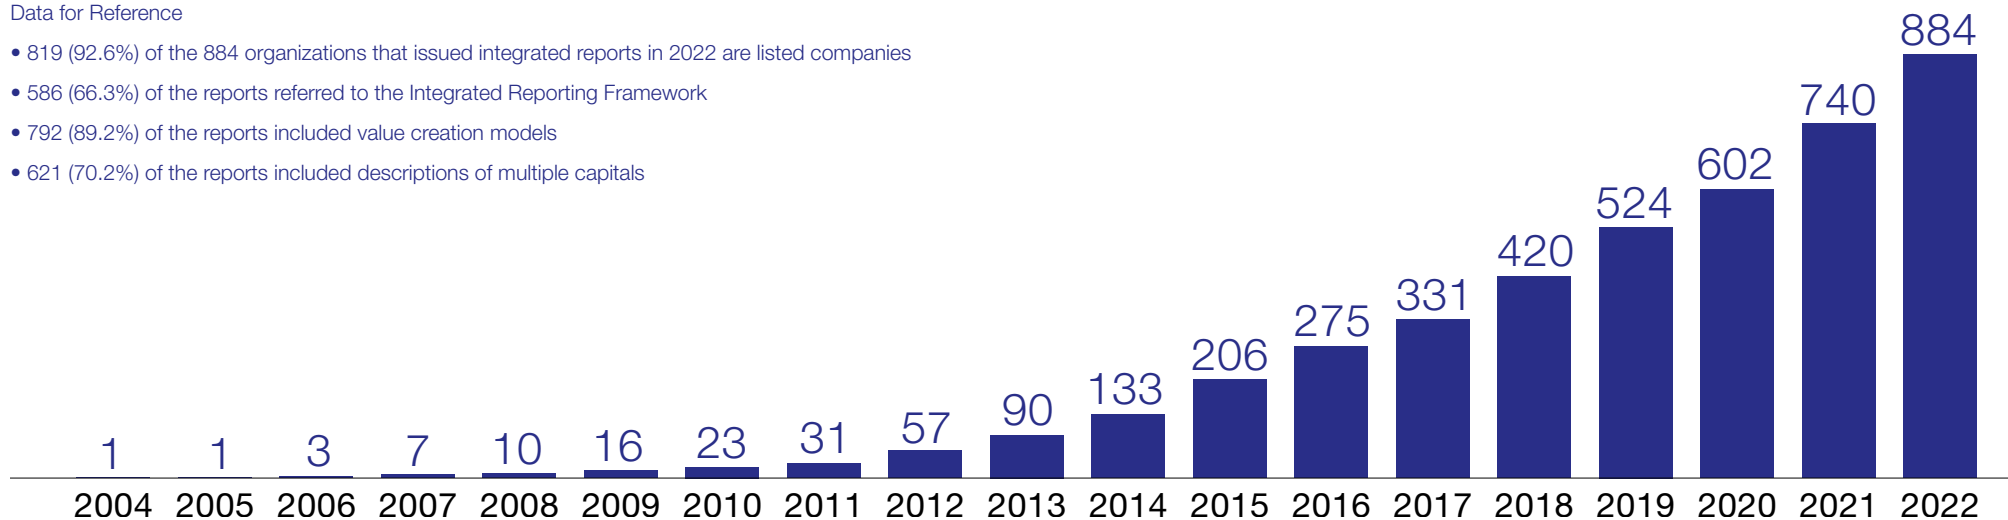

Self-declared integrated reports are categorized as such by the Corporate Value Reporting Lab when a report states that it is an integrated report in its editorial policy or elsewhere, or when a report contains comprehensive financial and non-financial information as well as reporting on corporate value creation and other matters that reflect deliberate integrated reporting.

(The Corporate Value Reporting Lab replaced the ESG Communication Forum in October 2015).

Trend in the number of organizations in Japan engaged in the publication of self-declared integrated reports

Data for Reference

- 819 (92.6%) of the 884 organizations that issued integrated reports in 2022 are listed companies
- 586 (66.3%) of the reports referred to the Integrated Reporting Framework
- 792 (89.2%) of the reports included value creation models
- 621 (70.2%) of the reports included descriptions of multiple capitals

* When a report states in its editorial policy or elsewhere that it is an integrated report, or if a report contains comprehensive financial and non-financial information while also containing language that implies that the report was prepared with considerations made for integrated reporting (pertaining to corporate value creation or otherwise), the report is counted as a self-declared integrated report.

Survey based on listed companies, with non-listed companies and other corporations and entities. Year is based on report publication dates and the survey applies principally to companies that adopt an annual reporting cycle. Should we receive no negative criticism regarding this method, we will continue to employ it next year and onward. Specification of the year that a company switched to integrated reporting is based on this method.
